

When help offered changes Lives

In 2013, ten (10) siblings from one family were admitted to the home. They had nowhere to live in after the family got disintegrated due to death. Their elder sister who is married tried to take care of them but the responsibility was unbearable to other family members. The local leaders brought their plight to the attention of Touch Ministries for intervention and support. They got admitted to the home.

Since then, three (3) of them have since completed trade school, courtesy of sponsorship. One has settled into small business enterprise for self-sustenance and livelihood. The four (4) below are sponsored, in good health and attend school.

They are grateful to their single sponsor for the kind and passionate heart in supporting and sponsoring all of them. Life was doomed, but now they see themselves as having hope and chance in turning their lives around.

Opio Anthony, Ojangole Boniface, Omojong Isaac and Anyait Martha above. Ochulet Ivan and Aanyu Betty are in 1st year at skills training school. Martha, below gifted with a cow and a hoe

Our special appreciation to Marlis for sponsoring these children. Kindness matters, the most unfortunate received it and they continue to live in hope.
